Placentia-Linda Hospital sold

National Medical Enterprises (NME) announced today that it has reached agreement to purchase, for an undisclosed cash amount, a 114-bed acute care general hospital and adjacent medical building in Placentia. Closing date for the transaction is expected to occur within 30 days, the company reported.

Placentia-Linda Community Hospital, which serves northern and northeastern portions of Orange County, offers services ranging from emergency, ICU/CCU and nuclear medicine to hemodialysis and respiratory and physical therapy. Thirty-two medical and surgical specialties are represented on the 235-physician medical staff.

The hospital and adjacent 20,000 square foot medical office building are being acquired from Placentia-Linda Hospital Community Group, a general partnership consisting of 38 physicians.

In announcing the acquisition, NME President Richard K. Eamer noted that Placentia-Linda will be the company's second owned acute care hospital in the rapidly growing Orange County area. It brings to 194 the number of acute and long-term care facilities owned, operated or managed by NME, he said.

The company also provides planning, design, construction, equipment, financial and administrative services to other health care providers around the world.

Chief Traub takes Orange PD

The eye of the hurricane is calm, at least from the point of view of Placentia Police Chief Norm Traub.

In the midst of controversy surrounding alleged police brutality involving members of the city's Hispanic citizens; in the midst of a recall movement directed at two councilmembers who asked for independent investigation of the police chief and his department; in the midst of ongoing efforts to resolve all of this; Chief Traub has accepted a similar assignment in the City of Orange as Chief of Police.

Traub, head of the Placentia Police Department for the past 10 years will, at 42, replace retiring Merrill Duncan.

Orange has a population of 92,000 with 129 full-time sworn officers which Traub will command at an annual salary of $43,896. In Placentia, Traub ran a 42 man department for a population of 36,000 at an annual salary of $37,565.

Investigations of the Placentia Police Department by both the FBI and the Orange County District Attorney's office cleared the department and chief Traub of any wrongdoing related to the alleged handcuffing and beating of the Sante Fe Colonia an Hispanic youth in last Oct 10.

Coach Hastings departs El Dorado for last time

One of the favorite words of the late Glen Hastings, former football coach at Brea Olinda and El Dorado high schools, was "fantastic."

The same word could be used to describe the man himself.

It was a shock to read Monday about his sudden death from a heart attack, after returning home from a basketball game. But it was fitting that the end came after an athletic contest. Because athletics were Glen's life.

One of the most vivid personal memories of Hastings doesn't come from the coach himself, but from a reporter with whom we were acquainted in 1963. He had gone to practice at Brea Olinda and returned to the office dumbfounded. We recall he was from either Mater Dei or Servite, both schools renowned for spartan-like practices.

He described the Brea Olinda practices under Hastings as "fun and games with Glen and the boys." Hastings' teams were businesslike, but the played with enthusiasm and enjoyment.

Hastings brought his own personality to his teams. And in doing so, succeeding his legendary predecessors, Shorty Smith and Dick Tucker, he wrote a legend of his own.

One of the more unusual parts of it was the move from Brea to El Dorado in Placentia, then a new school, which would become an arch rival of Brea Olinda. But this move never seemed to dilute the affection people in Brea had for him.

The records he set can be seen elsewhere, but his work with young people as a teacher, administrator, coach and official for many years is imperishable. It was good to know you, Glen.

Sailors seasoned

By Elaine Schmidt

One of the largest and most popular clubs at Valencia High School, the Sailing Club, has returned this year with added activity and success.

Before going out on their first sailing outing, all members were required to pass a mandatory swimming test.

Then, under the encouraging but unobtrusive guidance of adviser Jim Jenkins, the group journeyed to Jenkins' Newport Bay home, where the newcomers mastered the basics of sailing technique, and the more seasoned sailors refreshed their memories.

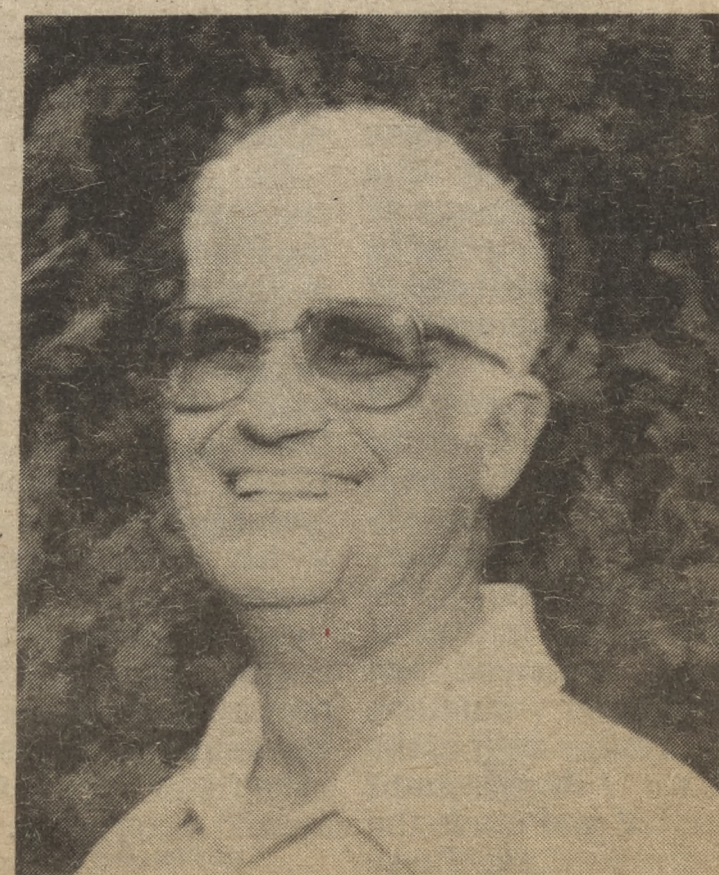

Teachers Craig Miller and Church Frazer and assistant principal Guy Manning and his family were also on hand with their boats to share in the fun.

Several more outings have been planned to expose the members to sailing the

The peculiar evil of silencing the expression of an opinion is, that it is robbing the human race; posterity as well as the existing generation; those who dissent from the opinion, still more who hold it. If the opinion is right, they are deprived of the opportunity of exchanging error for truth; if wrong, they lose, what is almost as great a benefit, the clearer perception and livelier impression of truth, produced by its collision with error.

— John Stuart Mill, in his essay
"Of the Liberty of Thought and Discussion"

Chief's Corner

Chief Norm Traub

This column affords me the opportunity to say farewell to the citizens of Placentia, whom I proudly served for the past 10 years. On March 1 I will leave Placentia to become police chief of the City of Orange.

It is a terrific opportunity for me. Orange is a much larger city than Placentia and its police department is approximately three times as large as ours. I am taking over from retired Chief Merrill Duncan, who in my opinion was one of the finest police chiefs in the country. I am flattered that the Orange City Manager and City Council even considered me to replace this most capable and respected administrator. Merrill, if you read this column, I can assure you that all of my energies will be devoted to living up to the standard of excellence you established in Orange.

Many changes have taken place in Placentia since my arrival in 1970. The population has nearly doubled, the orange groves are almost gone, the city hall and police station moved to a beautiful civic center, new parks have been developed and many more improvements have been implemented. Placentia is truly a beautiful, well-administered All-American City.

I can vividly remember the advice given to me by my first mayor, Bob Finnell. He said, "Keep a good sense of humor and don't take yourself too seriously." I hope he is not disappointed. The welcome I received as the new police chief in Placentia is still one of my most memorable experiences.

Over the years, I have received credit and awards from numerous organizations for various accomplishments. The truth of the matter is that I received the recognition, but the remarkable staff of the police department initiated and made the programs work. These dedicated professionals have developed a reputations for excellence which is the envy of other Orange County cities.

The new police chief, whoever he or she may be, will find an excellent police agency staff with sensitive professional personnel in every position in the department.

My family and I will continue to live in Placentia and intend to exercise our civic responsibilities as private citizens who are interested in good government for our city.

I am proud to have served so many, with few exceptions, excellent city councils whose only interest was to make all of Placentia the finest community possible.

I am pleased to have worked for City Manager Ed Powell, who is completely dedicated to the citizens of Placentia. Under his leadership, the city has remained fiscally sound, achievement oriented and without a hint of scandal. He brought together a team of department managers who have been recognized as dedicated professionals in every sense of the word.

My heartfelt thanks goes to the Placentia Neighborhood Watch, the Neighborhood Radio Watch, and the scores of people who have helped us over the years. To the people of the three Hispanic areas of Placentia, my personal thanks for your support, particularly during the period of recent controversy.

To the business community, especially the Placentia Chamber of Commerce and the other organizations in town, I appreciate your support and friendship. To the school administrators and staff, thanks for your great cooperation.

As I move on to another city, my only request to the people of Placentia is to resist attempts by any special interest group

Dear Editor:

The City of Placentia is experiencing a form of division in the governmental administration that threatens the future stability of the city. This form of division was brought on by ignorance and has matured into a recall committee.

This committee has charged two members of the city council of racism, dissension, and the audacity to criticize one of the city departments. In creating this recall, the committee members should first determine if they themselves have not or are practicing the same allegations, through their political, economical or personal means.

One of the outspoken members of the committee has been on the Placentia school board and was very supportive of the closing a neighborhood school (McFadden). The elimination of this school was not only a slap at the community of South Placentia, but brought on the political separation of North and South Placentia.

This individual, who represented the Placentia Unified School District and who was to have been objective in making educational decisions, rarely went into the Colonia La Jolla to work with the community, explain the closure, inform residents of educational programs or get acquainted with the people of South Placentia.

The second outspoken individual on the committee was on the city council. This individual promoted redevelopment at the cost of the residents' right to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. Proposals for constructive youth programs were brought before the council, but this individual voted against them without offering any viable alternatives. These proposals were made to curb gang violence and to promote closer relations between South Placentia and the city government.

The investigation into the police department initiated by Pete Laborde and Betty Mead, is healthy. If there are any rotten apples, they could be eliminated. The investigation should also be extended into the administrative department of the city (anyway, if they are not guilty, what do they have to hide?) and maybe these and other questions can be answered: (A) Are certain council members and city administrators playing backdoor politics? (B) Are they using this crisis as an excuse to bring back redevelopment of South Placentia, after the community was against it? (C) Are there certain real estate agents and developers working with the city collaborators for their own profit and political gain?

This recall committee should work more toward the city's needs instead of petty, personal games. The needs are low-income housing for new families, constructive youth programs, jobs within the city boundaries, programs for the elderly, educational needs, etc., etc.

Let us clean up the city government and unify the people into a community. Remember, when the economy is at a low, crime is at a high. If we don't work together, the instability we are experiencing could become a disaster.

Abram Moya, Jr.
Placentia

Dear Editor:

It seems to me that the Placentia recall committee has aptly named itself the Save Our City Committee. For surely our city needs to be saved from the irresponsible leaders who carelessly accuse and defame those who seek only to protect and defend all of the people of Placentia.

Our Placentia Police Department was protecting the south part of our city when a teenager was arrested for drunk driving. For this arrest they have been criticized and held up to public ridicule by two of the Placentia City Council members — Betty Mead and Peter Laborde. These police officers did what the taxpayers of Placentia pay them to do — protect the citizenry from dangerous elements. Drunk drivers currently cause in excess of 50 percent of all deaths occurring on the streets of our nation, according to recent news articles.

Hurrah for our Placentia Police Department. Better to arrest drunken drivers than for their parents to be identifying their lifeless bodies in the coldness of the county morgue. Better to arrest drunken drivers than for your family or my family to suffer the loss of one of our loved ones to the senseless stupidity of a drunk driver.

The courage of the police department was recently evidenced by the arrest of another drunk driver — even the son of a Placentia councilman. Surely the police would have preferred to let him go, rather than arrest him and remove him from the streets. They are to be commended for their courage in thinking first of the safety of the citizenry.

Four different agencies of the state and nation have cleared our Placentia Police Department of any error in their actions or procedures. Mrs. Mead and Mr. Laborde should publicly apologize to Police Chief Norm Traub and to the department. They should stop crying that the investigations were not fairly conducted simply because the result of those investigations did not satisfy their preconceived decision of guilt.

Dear Editor:

As Mayor of the City of Placentia, it has been difficult to restrain myself from speaking out in support of our police department during the past several months. Following a mob attack on members of our department, many charges were leveled by outsiders not involved in the incident. The City has cooperated fully with extensive investigation and mediation efforts in order to learn as much as humanly possible about the circumstances surrounding the incident.

Now the evidence is in ... our police department and police chief have been completely cleared by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the U.S. Department of Justice Civil Rights Division, the Orange County Grand Jury, and the Orange County District Attorney. Even the Orange County Human Relations Commission has been supportive of our police department's efforts to develop positive police/Hispanic relations. Yet the criticism, now without any basis in fact or reason, continues.

Throughout this ordeal, our police department, from patrol officer to chief of police, has exemplified the highest standards of professional conduct. It is not right that they should suffer this abuse.

As one council member, I want to commend our police department and state that I am proud of each member of the department. I only wish that our entire City Council could make the same statement. Our department has received many awards in recognition of its professional conduct and innovative programs under Chief Traub's capable leadership.

Chief Traub will be leaving soon to accept position as chief of police Orange. I wish him every success and want to express my deep sense of appreciation for the personal sacrifices he has made to mold our police department into a responsive and professional department.

El Dorado High School Band's newest project, house number painting, combines service to Placentia residents and fundraising.

During the month of February the students are beginning their project in the area between Valencia and Kraemer avenues north of Golden Avenue. Residents will be asked to make a donation for the service.

Band members are cooperating with the city of Placentia and are working in areas assigned by the city. When they finish an area, city inspectors check their work to verify that it meets city specifications before assigning them a new area.

Monies earned from the curb painting project will help finance the band's participation in the World of Music Festival at the University of Hawaii during Easter vacation where the students will compete in marching, field show, concert band, wind ensemble and jazz ensemble competition. In addition, they will put on a concert in Queen Kapiolani Park.

One hundred thirty-two students will leave April 9 for Honolulu, accompanied by 27 adult chaperones.

Pinewood derby

21 race 32 for trophies

The Cub Scouts from Pack 770 held their annual Pinewood Derby Racy at their January pack meeting in the multipurpose room at Morse Elementary School.

Twenty-one Cub Scouts raced their homemade cars down a 32-foot track, three cars at a time. Each car started out as a block of wood about seven inches long and two and a half inches wide. Each boy was required to build his own car using his own design. Trophies will be given out to Justin Beghtol for the most original design, and best designed car awards to Jason Grey and Steve Kilian.

There were three groups of races with first, second and third place trophies to be won in each division. The fastest cars in each of those groups then competed for the overall trophies.

The finalists in Group A were: Mike Robinson, Justin Beghtol and Mike Dalquist. Group B finalists were: Mike Read, Mike Madera and Wayne Doyel. Group C finalists

Lighting sample

The Registrar of Voters announced that sample ballots are being mailed this week to approximately 16,000 voters in the Placentia Highway Lighting District and to approximately 1,000 voters in the La Jolla Highway Lighting District. The election proposition in each district is to determine whether or not to increase the district's Appropriations Limit for the projected cost of continuing the current level of district street lighting services.

Written applications for an absentee ballot must be received by the registrar by Feb. 24. The mailing address is Registrar of Voters, P.O. Box 11298, Santa Ana, CA 92711, or you may apply personally during office hours at the office, at 1300-C S. Grand Ave., Santa Ana. Call 834-2244 for further information.

Letter to the editor

In their letter to the editor last week, Mrs. Mead and Mr. Laborde blatantly continued their effort to deceive the people of Placentia. First, the scold the police department for releasing the news that the police were exonerated of any guilt in the case of the drunk driving minor by the U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. (This exoneration was based upon an FBI investigation and clearly absolves the Placentia Police Department of any wrongdoing in the case.) Next they deny any investigations have ever been conducted even though those investigations have been covered by numerous newspapers.

Finally, they question if the civil rights of the drunk driver hadn't been violated because the police advised the media that the police had been cleared of any wrongdoing. Evidently, these two politicians weren't a bit concerned about civil rights when the arrest was originally made and they went to great lengths to publicize the event and beat the drum for this same individual. Only now, when the truth comes out that the police behaved properly, do Mead and Laborde show any concern for what the publicity may mean to the individual involved.

Frankly, as a citizen, I am sick and tired of the cry of "violation of civil rights." What about the rights of citizens to expect their streets to be clear of dangerous drivers — what about the rights of taxpayers who seek to use police issues to gain the support of the uneducated, uninformed and naive and thus advance their own careers to the detriment of our city.

There are only two people who are guilty of error at this time and they are Mrs. Mead and Mr. Laborde. If they fail to admit their error and support our police department and our city as they were elected to do, then they are not worthy to serve as members of our City Council and should be removed.

In closing, a salute is due to Placentia Mayor Norm Eckenrode for his letter backing up Police Chief Norm Traub and our Placentia Police Department. It was good to hear a responsible elected leader speak out. Now the question is when will we be hearing from city councilmen Dick Acton and Don Holt on this subject?

An open letter from Miss Placentia

On Saturday, Feb. 21, my reign will officially end as Miss Placentia, 1980. But, the memories of the past year will live with me forever. As it is physically impossible to thank each of you individually, the News-Times has graciously allowed me this open letter to you, the citizens of Placentia.

A special thank you to Mayor Pro Tem Don Holt, and all the council members for their telegrams, cards, letters and flowers sent to me during my week at the Miss California pageant in Santa Cruz, and for their unfailing support of the Miss Placentia Pageant.

To Wineman's Department store, the lovely wardrobe you gave me made me the best dressed girl in Santa Cruz. And to Dick Harmon, Shirts, etc., the sports outfits made the TV rehearsals look like a modeling show, with me the star! Many thanks to Thomas' English Muffins for the gifts to all the contestants in Santa Cruz, to El Torito for the reception, the News-Times for all the coverage and to Pound Photographers for the lovely photographs.

My room in Santa Cruz looked like a florist shop because of all the bouquets sent by the wonderful people of Placentia, some of whom I've never had the opportunity of meeting personally. But, please know that you brought a little bit of home to me. Thank you, dear Lorena Hodges, for your sponsorship and gifts. To all the sponsors, there could be no pageant without your support.

My deep appreciation goes to Laura Jo, for all the hours spent sewing my costumes and gown; to Les Gogerty for the endless errands you performed, and to John Stambaugh who doubled as a chauffeur and mechanic; to Mary Bette (producer), Rose Lembke and Carolee Munder (field directors) thank you for a wonderful year.

To my family my humble thanks for your love and unfailing support.

And to the kindest, most hilarious chaperone in the world, Phyllis Stambaugh, you're one in a million. God bless you for your love and patience.

Last, but not least, to the Placentia Chamber of Commerce thank you for giving these girls this wonderful opportunity year after year. The pageant is an unique opportunity for a young woman to express herself in an all-around way. It is an opportunity to further her education with the scholarships that are awarded.

Participating in the pageant has been a memorable experience for me — an experience I will cherish forever. Thank you, dear friends, for making a dream come true. It has been an honor to represent Placentia.

LINDA VISTA PHARMACY

President Coolidge's son, Calvin Coolidge, Jr., died a victim of an infection. It all started when he blistered a heel as he played tennis. It seems incredible today that a simple infection could cost a life, yet at that time such tragedies were all too common.

Actually, the drug which would probably have saved young Coolidge's life did exist but no one yet realized its marvelous healing power. Sulfanilamide had been identified and synthesized in 1908, but it seemed to have no practical use. It was not until 1931 when it was routinely tested as a germ-killer that sulfanilamide was discovered to have life-saving potential.

Areas opened

On the ski slopes

By Bob Slaght

If you notice an increased number of smiling people out in public places, it's sure to be those skiers who have returned from long-postponed ski vacations to favorite resorts. All local ski areas are open, finally, and some areas are reporting sold out tickets even on some midweek days. So, to avoid disappointment, be sure to call the resort you plan to ski and determine the situation. Numbers to call will follow.

Mountain High's two new triple chairlifts are running smoothly bringing the total number of lifts to five. This also means 50 percent more runs, more snow making and especially easier parking on their giant paved parking area. Call 972-9242 for ski report.

Holiday Hill announced its second annual photo contest. Details may be obtained at the ski area. All new rental equipment should enhance skiing at Holiday Hill. Call 972-0621 for report.

Ski Sunrise invites you to try the new quad chairlift and remember, ski 'till 10 a.m. free, so you can try before you buy. Call 249-6150 for report.

Mt. Mateman, located beyond the Mt. Wilson Observatory road, promises no lift lines midweek and is sorry to report that their third chairlift construction plan was delayed by the Sierra Club after months of in-depth study and planning by the Forest Service. Call 790-2002 for report.

Mt. Baldy features two of the highest chairlifts in SoCal to over 8,500 feet. Only 45 miles from downtown L.A., it has 15 percent beginner, 50 percent intermediate, and 35 percent advanced terrain. Call 982-4208 for report.

Snow Summit will feature the Women's Professional Ski Racing Tour on March 7 and 8. Summit Express has expanded to 15 pickup location, where early morning buses will take you to the ski area for the day and return in the early evening. Call 972-0604 for details. Report number is 972-0601.

Goldmine offers the opportunity to test your skills on a national level through NASTAR (NATIONAL STANDARD RACE) designed for any age and any ability. Call 972-0771 for report.

Snow Forest is ready for the beginning/intermediate skier with 100 percent hill coverage of manmade snow. Call 866-5503 for information.

Snow Valley encourages advanced skiers to Ski Slide Peak, boasting a 7 percent steepness factor with a fantastic bowl. Call 972-0611 for conditions.

My ski hat is off to Brent Doloff and his friends at the Rosignol Ski Co., who, when learning that their employers was donating 450 pairs of skis for the the Special Olympics, contributed not only their labor, but designed a unique graphic for the special skis. The skis will be used by hundreds of athletes from the 50 states and more than a dozen foreign countries, who will compete in the second International Winter Special Olympics Games in Smugglers Notch, Vermont, March 8-13.

Operation bridge

By Mark Kurisu

Getting a head start on college. Something that is often easier said than done, but with a program known as Operation Bridge, the student can not only get the college credit, but a brief preview of college life.

The credits earned are strictly for college, so when the graduates from high school he'll have credits to lean on.

According to El Dorado High School counselor Dan Harrington, "Fifteen to 20 students are involved in the program, which is held on the campus of Fullerton College.

"Operation Bridge," explained Harrington, "is a program designed for juniors and seniors." New graduation requirements implemented by the Placentia Unified School District make this necessary.

Harrington continued, "The way things are now, you have to take six classes as a freshman, six as a sophomore, and at least four or five as a junior or senior."

Because it is an off-campus course, the student must be enrolled in a minimum of four classes, which constitutes legitimate enrollment in a school. A student cannot enroll in both Operation Bridge and work experience simultaneously.

There is a charge for the program only if minimum residency requirements are not met.

Since the student is actually attending Fullerton College, he must apply at the college and have counselor's approval.

Moore quarter winner

Western Mutual Escrow Corp. has announced Karen Moore as the current winner of the Employee of the Quarter award. The announcement came from President Charles P. Conner.

Moore was nominated for the award by her fellow employees at the company's administrative office, where she is executive secretary to the president.

The honored employee has been with Western Mutual Escrow for one year. Prior to joining the staff, she was employed as administrative assistant at another escrow company in the Orange County area.

Moore attended Downey High School and continued her education at Cypress College, majoring in business. She resides in Placentia with her husband Bill and their two sons.

Western Mutual Escrow Corp. is California's largest independent escrow company, with 56 offices located in seven Southern California counties. Administrative headquarters for the firm are at 2428 N. Grand Ave., Santa Ana.

GRAND REOPENING
FUN & BARGAINS

LOVE - Alma Guzman checks her sister Hermendo Guzman, 2 months old, at the Placentia Post Office while her mother mails a letter.

Placentia Notebook

By Cec Rospaw

"I was surprised at the intensity of my own patriotism. As the time grew so did I. I am now a fervent patriot."

—Jerry Plotkin

And he was forgiving and understanding even of the damaging report published in one newspaper. "That is part of our system and I accept that," he said.

ABC News, particularly with the strong reporting of Pierre Salinger in giving the background of the negotiations which led to the release, has made itself a force to be reckoned with by the measured coverage of the hostage story.

Those who were surprised at the obvious feeling among the Germans should remember that it was the United States, with British and French help, who, less than three years after the big war, stood firm in Berlin, supplied the blockaded city through the air and by standing firm made the present Federal Republic possible. Any backing away then would probably have put the Russians on the Rhine today and most thoughtful Germans know it.

Berlin is still an island city, but, like Hong Kong, it is still there just as it was set up in 1945.

Our working title for a book on the Berlin Airlift is "The Last American Victory."

After that it was a tie in Korea, a tradeoff and standoff in Cuba and a loss in Vietnam.

Just what this last go-around was exactly only history will tell. But, like that marvelous July Fourth during the Bicentennial when the nation sort of all came together while the Boston Pops played the "Stars and Stripes Forever," Helen O'Connell seemed to be singing for everyone when she sang the anthem at the Super Bowl.

Sign at the Super Bowl: U.S. 52, Iran 0.

Ex-hostage to a newsman: "How do I feel? Buy Iraqi war bonds."

Mrs. Dorthea Moorefield, relaxing at last after the long ordeal, to yet another newsman: "What am I going to tell my husband? The next time you are going to be late for dinner be sure and call first."

Over 2,000 paid their way into a closed circuit showing of the Super Bowl in London, ate hot dogs at half-time and next year there will be more outlets. Most were Americans, but a few Londoners looked on with the same incomprehension the Americans felt trying to figure out what was going on along the River Thames in April when Oxford and Cambridge had their annual rowing race.

Very little of that made much sense, either.

The Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders project that outlaw image very well. The game was billed as the bad guys against the good guys. The Cinderella story was Jim Plunkett, of course.

But anyone who had seen Plunkett shut down USC just had to know that the Eagles would not be much more of a challenge. It was near-perfect football.

So, here are the winning giants of football, the outlaws, on camera, kneeling in prayer, led by their winning coach, Art Flores, one-time UOP quarterback.

Dick Vermiel, who knows he will be back, was gracious in defeat. "They are a fine team and they beat us," he said.

Vermiel is the Calistoga flash and was quarterback at San Jose State and played against Flores when those schools met. The year the Eagles coach was at UCLA that team blocked, tackled, beat SC and went to the Rose Bowl.

Dan Pastorini, the quarterback whose broken leg gave Plunkett his comeback chance, is from San Jose, and he and Plunkett played against and don't like each other.

Sheep hunt

Don McBride completes grand slam!

By Laura Gaede

Don McBride, a local Brea realtor and an active member of the Mormon Church, completed a "grand-slam." He began in Alaska in 1975. McBride's goal was to get a caribou, moose, and a dahl ram. The sheep is found only in Alaska and some parts of the Yukon.

McBride and his group decided to hunt near the Yukon border off the White River Range Mountains and crossed a glacier to get to the hunting area. McBride shot the dahl sheep across a valley to a peak in the snow. Despite the fact that his rifle had been rained on and the scope wasn't designated properly, the hunter got his first North American sheep.

In August of 1978 McBride hunted in Pink Mountain, British Columbia. He got his second sheep (the stone sheep), only found in British, Columbia. The weather had been bad the first few days, yet McBride managed to get the stone sheep on his third day. "This was the easiest hunt I ever experienced," he noted.

In 1979 McBride decided to get all the big horns which is called "the grand-slam." McBride's hunting partner, Bill Wood, was attempting this particular big horn for the fourth time. The two men went to hunt in Calgary, Alberta with Mc-

Bride's son Matt. This was an 18-day hunt because it's extremely difficult to get a Rocky Mountain big horn. The hunting crew had four horses each, five guides, cooks and wranglers. They started on Aug. 27 and finished on Sept. 20. On the eighth day of the hunt they spotted the big horn. It took three hours to get to the area where the sheep were located. The hunting party crossed a sheil mountain with loose sheil and climbed so they were above the sheep. The first shot was 200 yards from the sheep; the sheep stood up and was frightened. The third shot hit the sheep and it fell down the mountain five feet away from the waterfall.

The fourth North American big horn is called the Desert Baja sheep. It's rarely found and usually in Mexico. In order to hunt this sheep, hunters must obtain a permit from the Mexican government through their Department of Fish and Game. The Mexican government gives out 80 permits per year so McBride wrote a letter to their Fish and Game Department and asked to be notified if they ever received a cancellation, adding he could be there within 24 hours. In February 1980 McBride was lucky to get a permit through a cancellation. The hunt took approximately 10 days. The Department of Fish and Game met McBride in Mexi-Cali. He then flew from Mexi-Cali to Punta-Prieta. There were four guides per hunter. The entire hunting party rode mules and ate tacos, beans and peanuts. The hunting party reached a point where they could see two valleys at one time. It's extremely difficult for the naked eye to visualize according to McBride. They spotted a sheep and stalked all the way up the crest. McBride shot from 200 yards and landed the sheep with the first shot. Thanks to John Damon, a real gunsmith located in Brea, McBride had used a new leopard variable with a 3X9 scope. McBride said he was extremely pleased with the last hunt because the sheep he got had the biggest curl taken in the Southern sheep camps in Baja in over a year. The Mexican biologist who measured the animal came up with a score of 183 points. When measured by the Boone and Crocket North American Games program of the National Rifle Association, the ram was 11 years old and may be the largest ram taken in Baja the entire year.

McBride has completed the "grand-slam" which is all of the North American sheep. The Super slam is next on the ladder, consisting of the 15 sheep worldwide. However, McBride isn't sure if he will attempt it.

Koshak Concert

The Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra will be heard in concert Sunday, Feb. 22 at 4 p.m. in the Chapman Auditorium, Chapman College, 333 N. Glassell. John Koshak will conduct.

The program includes Vivaldi's "Concerto Grosso in D Minor," and Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 5. The premiere performance of Orange County composer John Biggs' "American Folk Song Suite" will also be heard.

Guest soloist Georgia Ypma, one of three winners of the Orange County Youth Competition, will play one Beethoven and one Bach selection.

General admission is $2, $1 for students and senior citizens. For further information call Chapman's Music Department at 997-6871.

Morgan Manor Gay 90's

For most of us the 1890s conjure up pictures of women in long, bustled skirts, and men in straw hats and handlebar mustaches. It is also remembered as a particularly happy, relaxed, graceful time.

The spirit of the Gay '90s will be revisited when Morgan Manor Home Furnishings celebrates the grand reopening of the expanded Placentia store. On Saturday, Feb. 21 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., the public is invited to meet the Morgan family, listen to a crooning barbershop quartet and enjoy free balloons, frothy root beer and crunchy popcorn.

In addition, a disc jockey from KYMS will be on hand doing a live remote broadcast from Morgan Manor.

In addition to quality oak and upholstered furnishings, Morgan Manor also carries floor coverings, window and wall coverings, carpeting and accessories. Interior decorating consultations and home delivery are available as well as other fine services.

Morgan Manor Home Furnishings is located at 1414 N. Kraemer, Placentia, in the Village Plaza, one block north of the Placentia Post Office.

Meet Dannemeyer

Congressman William E. Dannemeyer will conduct four town hall meetings this year to meet with the constituents of the 39th Congressional District.

"I urge you, the residents of the 39th Congressional District, to attend a town hall meeting: Our form of representational government works best when public input is strong. This will be a valuable opportunity for me as a member of Congress to meet informally with the members of my district and hear your views. It is also a great opportunity for you to question me about federal legislation," said Dannemeyer.

The 39th

Congressional District includes all or parts of Anaheim, Brea, Buena Park, Fullerton, Garden Grove, La Habra, Orange, Placentia, Santa Ana, Villa Park and Yorba Linda. The public is invited to any of these town hall meetings, all beginning at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 21, Sunny Hills High School Auditorium, 1801 Warburton Way, Fullerton; March 27, Katella High School Little Theater, 2200 Wagner Ave., Anaheim; March 28, Placentia Library Meeting Room, 411 E. Chapman Ave., Placentia; and May 2, Villa Park High School Multipurpose Room, 18042 Taft, Villa Park.

School spirit

ColorGuard Girls

By Elaine Schmidt

You've seen them performing at half-time, practicing at 7 a.m. and showing their school spirit at pep rallies and assemblies. Who are they? They are the Valencia High School Colorguard, a group of 19 girls whose dedication to the time-consuming activity is gaining growing county-wide recognition.

Those who auditioned for and passed the tall flag clinics last year include old members Lauren Mayer, Kim Van Hooser, Debi Strain, Teri Mirek, Karen Case, Mari Winney, Lucy Hartman and Kris Hilzer. Newcomers to the group are Laurie Pettingill, Heather Reeves, Natalie Arnold, Candi Blackwell, Suzanne Young, Jeanie King, April Reid, Gail Durham, Kim Foster and Diana Lang.

Colorguard Captain Mayer explained the squad's duties. "The guard is basically the visual complement of the band. We serve to increase the GE (general effect) scores at all judged competitions, such as parades and field shows. We try to be present whenever the band is featured as a group." This includes pep rallies, assemblies, practices and away games.

The life of a colorguard member is a busy one. Not only is she responsible for attending every performance, but she must also find time in her daily schedule for 7 a.m. zero period practice, second period Band-PE and additional practices Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Assisting the squad is adviser Angela Kereste, who creates the colorful flag routines and field drills performed by the flag squad. This year, flag routines are being performed to "The Can-Can," "What I Did For Love," "The William Tell Overture" and "Espana Cani."

Dance

The Yorba Linda YMCA will again be offering a five-week course in aerobic dance. The program will teach dance movements that provide individuals the benefits of exercise, as well as the fun and excitement of dance. Creative exercise patterns are designed to fit the tempo and mood of the music. These classes are designed for the

Committee Chairman
There are some familiar names back on the board, perhaps in a little different role than they had before. We still need a

Program Chairman
and a Food Chairman. If you wish to help out in either of these categories (or any other) talk to Whit Cromwell or Jack Hamilton. You have been great in signing up on the potluck committees and we do appreciate that. Let's keep up the good work and keep our club going full swing!

We Want to Help

If you are not attending the potluck meetings because it is difficult for you to get there or you cannot handle the dishes etc., please let us help. You can call Dial-A-Ride, 991-9100 for transportation, the charge is 50 cents within city limits. Paul Gibbs will help when possible with transportation, 528-7037. If you come to the potluck meeting and are unable to carry in dishes, etc., inform someone at the entrance desk, and they in turn will alert one of the kitchen committee to assist you. We want everyone that possibly can to attend our monthly meetings. You will usually find someone willing to help he at any one of the activities.

Insurance

The club is now covered by Liability insurance. This was one of the provisions necessary to continue with the bingo games. Individuals need to carry their own insurance in case of injury.

Chairmen

Bonanza

Nan Herz reports 5,103,714 points to our credit for January turn-in. There were only six at the coffee last time and she would like to have a few more. Remember, the first Tuesday of the month at the Holiday Inn, Harbor and Houston in Fullerton. There is a travel agency listed in the Bonanza News with a Caribbean cruise planned for Dec. 12, the price is secure. Some other sponsors are Hobby City, Santa Barbara Savings, Alpha Beta (sales slips) Alphies restaurant, Carl's Jr., The City shopping center, to name a few. We get extra credit for patronizing half of the sponsors, too. We did real good last year with Bonanza, making top of the list several times. Let's do as good or better this year!

Blood Pressure Clinics
Please note dates on your calendar for balance of February and the month of March. The board has approved the purchase of a blood pressure kit, so perhaps in the future we can make more time available.

Special Concerns

Hoyt Corbit is in the hospital, Julia Corbit has just come home from the hospital and has someone staying with her. Roy Pritchard had eye surgery last Thursday. Mamie Daniels is home from the hospital. Mr. John Q. Adams of Fullerton passed away last week. Cards have been sent by the hospitality chairman but individual cards would be appreciated, I'm sure. If you know of anyone in need of a little tender loving care, contact Nada or Marion, so we can keep in touch.

Special Activities

Appointments are being taken for Tuesdays with the tax consultant until April 14. Call Nada at Senior Center.

Tickets are now available to the luncheon at Mercury Savings March 24, (Tuesday) at noon. Cost is $1.50 per person. Maximum number we can have is 65 so get your bid in early to the senior center, or, if there are any left, from Jack Hamilton at the March meeting.

Regular Activities

Harrison Beamer has consented to co-chair the Armchair programs held the third Wednesday of each month. Check the calendar for programs in February and March. If you have pictures you would like to show, call Viola Page or Mr. Beamer.

Bingo has been well attended the last two times. Gladys and George Parker are such good hosts and there are always goodies to eat, too. Come and enjoy the fun and bring a friend!

Copies of photos made by the News-Times staff are available at the office at $3 each. Orders may be placed by calling News-Times Newspaper at 524-8520, or coming by the office at 1399 N. Miller St., Anaheim.

The office is located across the street from Anaheim Lake.

Ghostly comedy

Civic Centers 'Improbable farce'

Art donation

A $250 donation was recently presented to the scholarship fund of the Placentia-Linda Community Hospital Guild by Sprayon Products as part of a new community service program initiated by the Anaheim firm.

Sharon Stewart, chairman of the guild's Scholarship Committee, said that every year students from the Placentia-Linda service area who are pursuing medical careers receive scholarship assistance from the guild. Last year the guild awarded a total of $6,000 in scholarships to 18 students. Most of the scholarship money is generated by sales in the hospital gift shop.

Ruben Moreno, plant manager of the Anaheim company, and Veronica Mack, personnel administrator, represented Sprayon Products, a division of Sherwin Williams Company, at the check presentation.

"Our plant at 3818 E. Coronado in Anaheim is located close by Placentia-Linda Community, making the hospital the ideal choice for emergency medical care, as well as routine medical procedures required for plant safety," said Moreno.

Accepting the donation to the guild's scholarship fund were Stewart and guild President Ella Bigelow.

An "improbable farce" by Sir Noel Coward opens Friday, Feb. 20 for an 18-performance run through March 15 when the Cabaret Repertory Theatre presents "Blithe Spirit" at the new Brea Civic Cultural Center Theater, Number 1 Civic Center Circle in Brea.

The ghostly comedy will be seen Wednesday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. with a 7:30 p.m. Sunday curtain. The show will be preceded each evening by a Cabaret Buffet, served beginning one hour prior to curtailment.

Tickets and further information are available from the CRT box office at (714) 879-6865. The box office is open Wednesday through Friday from 4-8:30 p.m. and noon to 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

"Blithe Spirit" is considered by many to be one of Coward's cleverest comedies. It centers on Charles Condomine, a successful mystery writer who invites an irrepressible spiritualist to dinner with the intention of gathering background information for his latest novel from an after-dinner seance.

Unwittingly, however, daffy Madame Arcati appears to have conjured up the ghost of Charles' first wife, Elvira, creating a rather uncomfortable menage-a-trois with the hero's second wife, Ruth.

The hilarious complications form a perfect plot upon which Coward created some of the wittiest dialogue written for the stage.

The CRT cast includes Joseph Arnold, Linda Marie Emond, Lucinda Datherine Johnson, Joseph Parrish, Pamela Richard, Jenie Romney and Melanie Smith.

Set design was by created by Mitch Gill, with lighting and audio by Kevin Cook and costumes by Dan L. Wilhelm.

Included in the low CRT admission price is a special Cabaret Buffet, served prior to showtime in the civic center's fourth level Community Room.

Dead End

Nancy Carlberg will be the special guest speaker at the Wednesday, Feb. 18 meeting of the Yorba Linda Genealogical Society. Her topics will include "Tracing Your Canadian Roots" and "Overcoming Dead Ends in Your Family Tree."

Helpful ideas on how to start a genealogical search will also be available. Meetings are held on the third Wednesday of every month at 7:30 p.m. in the upstairs story room of the Yorba Linda District Library, 18262 Lemon Dr.

All interested persons are invited to attend. For more information, call (714) 779-6709.

The buffet features a variety of meats and light salads with patrons' choice of wine or chilled cider.

Tickets to "Blithe Spirit," at $9 each, may be obtained by mail, in person or through telephone charge with VISA or MasterCard.

Mail orders should include a SASE and at least three date choices and be addressed to Cabaret Repertory Theatre,

P.O. Box 217, Brea, CA 92621.

Patrons should note that all Saturday evening shows are sold out, and that availability of tickets is extremely limited for Friday and Sunday.

Shakespeare scenes

Chapman hosts tournament

The Sixth Annual Shakespeare Scene Tournament for High School Students presented by the Communications Department of Chapman College will be held Feb. 20 from 2 to 5:30 p.m. and Feb. 21 from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Waltmar Theatre at the college, 333 N. Glassell.

The tournament consists of Shakespearean scenes presented by teams of students representing the competing high schools. Also featured will be two-to-four minute individual monologues. An Elizabethan Acting workshop, a brunch and tour of Chapman will be provided Saturday morning before the tournament begins.

Ten prizes will be awarded, including a half-tuition Chapman scholarship. All performers and technical staff will receive certificates of participation. The judges are select production and acting staff members of the South Coast Repertory Theatre, Orange County's professional company, the Globe Theatre, Los Angeles, and Chapman faculty.

The public is invited to attend the competition. There is no admission charge.

Plunkett got the Heisman at Stanford not only on his abilities but because he was liked by everyone who knew him.

We sat there in the Stanford Press Box for the 1972 USC game, and talked to all there about Plunkett. Very popular.

(That was the day we sat next to Pete Kometovic, who was in charge of stadium security. And if you don't know that name, you don't know football.)

We were in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, 1942 the day Kometovic took a high punt and ran it back for a touchdown against Nebraska. Frank Albert was at quarterback, Hugh Gallernau at the other half and the late Norm Standlee at fullback.

Vic Lindsog of Montana and Santa Ana JC was the center and Dick Palmer made the block which helped score the key TD. This was the team that made the "T" formation famous and on that day Pete Kometovic was the picture perfect halfback.

We went to that game with the Gillilan family. University of Nebraska was their school first, before USC. Leon Gillilan, later to become a Placentia mayor, ran the mile for Nebraska in track, among other things.

Got a nice picture of the family at the holidays and their look just the same as that sunny day in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena when Margaret stuck with SC and we decided to go to Stanford.

Roy Hale was catcher on the first Valencia High School league champion baseball team in 1942. Church Hargrove was shortstop and Hal Polley was coach. Yours truly was the manager of that team.

After pit stops at Cal Poly (baseball, basketball) FJC, Purdue and on the staff for many years at UC Riverside chasing bugs and advising ranchers, Hale now resides in Santa Maria. So, on a foggy Saturday we met in Guadalupe at the Guadalupe Restaurant where chef Larry Haro was a personal friend of Hale's and prepared a repast which would make even the Davis family of Talaquepaque fame jealous.

Hale's grandfather was a founder of the Anaheim Union Water Co., his dad, also Roy, served on the Placentia School Board and the family home still stands on Valencia Avenue. Guadalupe is more like Imperial Valley than SLO, clean, filled with restaurants and one famous tavern featuring "Bull's Eye" steaks but we had the best of times remembering great days and telling the soft lies of friendship.

A travel writer named Georgia Hesse was rating hotels recently, and started with the Manila Hotel in the Philippines.

Agreed. The Hilton in that city is a fine hotel. But the lobby and restaurants of the new Manila Hotel are among the most attractive we have ever seen, anywhere.

Until we was it again on a trip a few years back, our memory of the Manila Hotel was as we had last seen it during the battle of Manila in 1945. The Japanese had made a stand there, dragged big guns up to the upper floors in elevators and had been firing point blank and the battle ended only when most of the building had been destroyed.

Rebuilt, it is warm, decorated with hardwoods and sea shells, and has a bar decorated with ceiling fans and green lamps which evoked an immediate Sidney Greenstreet ambiance.

Hesse is also appreciative of the colonial charms of the Peninsula Hotel in Hong Kong and we rank having tea in that marble and gold lobby as among one of our high spots in life.

We would add two others to the list. Sheraton has, in most cases, ruined the fine hotels with which it has become associated.

The Paris Sheraton is a fine hotel, has a good Montparnasse location (for Hemingway fans) and the service and appointments are all first rate.

In London the Tower Hotel does not have good location is the theater is a daily goal. But it hangs out over the River Thames, with a great view of the Tower Bridge and the old white tower itself, and is connected with the St. Katherine dock area, center of yachting for London these days.

Our favorite London restaurant remains Simpson's, and for lunch the Cheshire Cheese. If we had one meal in Paris it would be at the Brasserie Lipp.

Vanessi's of San Francisco had a fire recently so the person writing about restaurants in the Chronicle has suddenly rediscovered the first real San Francisco place to which we were introduced by some college classmates from The City.

Original Joe's has been at 144 Taylor (near Market) since 1937. It has never changed, but the neighborhood has, more than once.

The owner describes his policy as: "Feed good ... heavy ... and clean." This Joe's is the prototype of all those San Francisco places where the chef cooks on a flaring grill right across from the customer. There is also a Joe's on State Street in Santa Barbara, just north of 101, which hasn't changed since the '40s and is now an "in" spot but still serving the same great food.

There is an Original Joe's in San Jose, also, and there were others by that name in San Francisco from time to time in more fashionable neighborhoods. If you want the real thing, take a tip and try it. Order the hamburger steak and spaghetti and compare.

And if you want to see stylish San Franciscans eating at one of their favorite places, try Jack's on Sacramento Street. Bright lights, upstairs rooms, white table cloths and a special menu for each day. Real waiters in black and white are also a feature.

Ever wonder what happened to the Susan B. Anthony dollar? Turns out they took them all to Europe and dumped them on the GIs there, as if they weren't having enough trouble with inflation.

Club items may be sent to News-Times Newspaper, 1399 N. Miller St., Anaheim 92806. Deadline: Friday, 5 p.m.

CHILDREN OF THE WEEK

Clean crisp sound

By Kim Van Hooser

If you noticed a clean, crisp sound coming from the Valencia High School band, it is probably the drum line you are hearing.

Beginning this year, the drum line has emerged with a new instructor and a whole new approach to what a drumline should be.

Responsible for this new style is drum instructor Kelly Small. Small, who marched with the Velvet Knights Drum and Bugle Corps and West Coast Express, also taught two years at Santa Ana Valley High School before coming to VHS.

According to Small, most high school drum lines are just a squad of drummers accenting the beat in time to the music of the band. Now, he went on to say, because of the more sophisticated Drum Corps influence, the drum line will be a rhythmic and melodic unit that will give more to the music by adding to the excitement, power and expression that this kind of percussion unit can offer.

This type of drum

style and way of interpreting the music takes more discipline, Small stated, so progress is slower, but he added that the awards are evident in the awesome end result.

He went on to explain that a drum line must work closely as one unit, for not only do the members have to be award of what they are playing individually, but how the sound blends in with the drum line as a whole and the band itself.

The drum line consists of two mallet players, Cathie McGhehey who plays bells, and Marlena Adams who plays xylophone; three triton players, Kenny Lopez, Keith Davis and Raul Gonzales; five snare drummers, Ron Blackburn, Tim Louie, Chris Maertzwiler, Walter Aguas and Scott Broberg; four bass drum players, David Grauer, Soren Krugsager, Karl Thomsen and Robert Bordwell; and one cymbal player, Joel Fuentes.

On sale

Keystone pub.

By Chris Whitescarver

Beginning June 1, Valencia High School students may purchase for $1.50 a copy of Valencia's literary publication, Keystones.

Keystones is 100 pages of Valencia students' short stories and poems.

Students wishing to submit work for the publication should give the work to their English teachers who will pass it on to Keystones Adviser Jane Stibal.

Stibal will give all stories and poems to student editors Garrett Morgan, Sandy Rodriguez and Sandy Collar.

The students editors will choose the work to be published and type every story and poem on stencils, ready to be printed.

The finished work will represent hard work from every member of the English staff and students enrolled in English classes.

Teachers involved in the publication of the book include Stibal, Richard Holmes, Gil Whitescarver, Carol Holst and Jim Drummond.

"All the teachers and students who are putting forth such a big effort in order to publish the book deserve much credit," Stibal said.

Stibal commented that other schools have publications much like Keystones, however, Valencia's effort is one of the most superior of its type.

"When June comes around, there is going to be only a limited number of Keystones," said Stibal, "so try to get one right away."

A sterile and empty place?

By Elaine Schmidt

This year a traditional club has returned to Valencia High School under a new title and with a fresher, more sophisticated approach to its activities.

The Visual Arts Society, the "Art Club" of old, is being renovated by its advisers, Richard Leverett and Richard Holmes.

Leverett explained, "The purpose of the society is to expand interested students' knowledge and appreciation of the visual arts. This includes art, photography, architecture and sculpture."

During the year, members of the society have the opportunity to develop their potential ability or improve their artistic talents. The group will be traveling to several museums and various scenic areas for photo-snapping and sketching on location.

Latent Michelangelos and other interested students can join the aesthetic crowd for lunch on Wednesday in Room 102. It is not necessary to be enrolled in an art or photography class to participate.

Leverett concluded by saying, "Our primary goal is to help people realize that the visual arts are an integral part of their lives. Our houses, clothes, advertisements, furniture and cars have all been designed by artists. Without art, the world would be a sterile and empty place."

Junior Awards

Kraemer Junior High School and the PTA will meet at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 24 in the Multipurpose Room.

The PTA will be presenting honorary service awards, and the Kubs will honor their finest when high honors will be awarded to seventh and eighth grade students with GPAs of 3.5 to 4.0.

Under the guidance of Principle Richard Owen and his academic staff, 91 students will be so honored.

Placentia Mayor Norman Eckenrode is slated to be guest speaker.

Those who wish to donate to the PTA scholarship fund are warmly invited to do so. A silver collection boy will be on hand for donations. Those who wish to donate but cannot attend are invited to send their donations to the PTA Scholarship Fund c/o Kraemer Junior High School.

City pays

Oelkers wins over overly ordinances

A U.S. District Court judge has ordered the City of Placentia to pay George E. Oelkers, W6QOL, attorney fees for a case Oelkers won against the city. Oelkers had sued the city for violating his civil rights in an action arising from the city's overly restrictive antenna ordinances.

George Oelker's fight to erect two antenna towers on his property began in November 1976. Placentia's city ordinance regulating antennas stated: "Height. Maximum allowable height limit in 'R-1' District shall be thirty (30) feet; accessory buildings twenty (20) feet."

Oelkers needed a special-use permit before he could put up his two amateur radio towers, because one would be 50-feet and the other 71-feet high. The city Planning Commission issued a permit for the towers but imposed the following conditions: (1) the permit would expire after one year, after which time it may be renewed; (2) the towers could have no guy wires; (3) the towers could have no appurtenant structures, i.e., no arms or accessory antennas; (4) full safety precautions had to be employed to prevent children or other persons from climbing the towers; (5) should interference develop as a result of the improper operation or maintenance of equipment, the fire and/or police department would retain the right of inspection; (6) compliance was required with the latest building and electrical codes; and (7) any necessary permits required must have been issued and inspection made of the construction.

In May 1977 Oelkers put up his towers. That November, the Planning Commission decided to extend the use permit without setting any time limit. A member of the City Council, Donald A. Holt Jr., however, on his own motion, appealed the decision of the Planning Commission to the City Council.

Two months later the City Council, on the motion of Holt, revoked Oelker's permit. At that point, Oelkers applied for a new special-use permit, but his application was tabled. On Feb. 7, 1978, the Placentia City Council passed a new ordinance placing a total and absolute prohibition on radio towers in excess of 25 feet in height. The city attorney sent Oelkers a letter warning him that unless he dismantled the towers, the city would seek civil retribution and criminal prosecution.

In April 1978 Oelker's attorney, Fred Lawson, K6JAN, filed suit against the city in Federal District Court. The complaint called for declaratory relief and damages pursuant to Chapter 42 of the U.S. Code, Section 1983, alleging that the city was violating Oelker's freedom of speech. The complaint also alleged that the city's ordinance was vague, overbroad and otherwise unconstitutional, and claimed that the federal government had preempted the field of radio communication by the Communications Act of 1934. Oelkers charged the city with violating the equal protection guarantees under the United States Constitution and depriving him of his property without due process of law as guaranteed under the Fourteenth Amendment.

On May 2, 1978, Federal District Court Judge Robert M. Takasugi issued a preliminary injunction enjoining the city from taking further action against Oelkers. On December 11, 1978, the Court made the injunction permanent, found the ordinances to infringe upon Oelker's constitutional right of free speech and ordered the city to bring its ordinances into conformity with the Constitution.

Oelker's attorney filed a supplemental brief and motion on June 2, 1980, claiming attorney fees. On

Mary Chen Honorary Award

The John O. Tynes PTA presented its second Honorary Service Award at the PTA meeting Tuesday, Feb. 10. Mrs. Mary Chen, parent volunteer, was the recipient of this year's award.

Mary Chen was born in China and grew up in Taiwan. In 1967 she moved with her family to New York where her father was in the shipping business. She is a graduate of the State University of New York at Stony Brook, with a degree in biology.

Married to Thomas O. Chen, Mary is the mother of two children, Helen and Michael, both students at John Tynes School.

September 24, 1980, Judge Takasugi ordered the defendant City of Placentia to pay Oelkers the reasonable sum for attorney fees and cost. Oelker's attorney, Frederick J. Lawson, who has law offices in Sherman Oaks, California, was assisted by ARRL and the Personal Communications Foundation (PCF).

Scholarships awarded

Orange County's Hispanic Youths

The Mexican-American Heritage Association (MAHA) members are preparing for the upcoming annual Fiesta de Las Flores dance to be held March 14, at the Inn at the Park. Entertainment is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. with El Mariachi Uclatlan followed by El Tema de Freddie Nunez, which will perform from 9:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. A good time is guaranteed.

The MAHA is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing assistance to Mexican-American youth who are pursuing higher learning. MAHA evolved from a Cinco de Mayo festivities committee comprised of Mexican-American employees of North American Rockwell in 1973.

The original festival was quite successful, and there emerged a comradery and cooperative spirit among the early participants which prompted the founding of the MAHA. These participants felt that although there was plenty of work involved, it had been a refreshing experience to work together for a common cause, then enjoy the fruits of their labors.

It was felt that the funds raised could be put to worthwhile use by young Mexican-Americans wanting to improve themselves through higher education. The founders decided to expand their membership to include persons outside of Rockwell. Since that first fund raiser, MAHA has awarded over 110 scholarships for a total of over $25,000 to Mexican-American youths of Orange County.

Current recipients of MAHA scholarships are Maria Dolores

Barba, a biological science major at UCI; Hortencia Anaya Barron, a biological science major at UCI; Chris Bravo, an electronic engineering major at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo; Pablo Luna Fernandez, an accounting major at Cal State Fullerton; Gustavo Clemente Garcia, an engineering/airline pilot major at UCI; Sylvia Lopez Garcia, a biological science major at UCI; Dora L. Lopez, a business administration major at Cal State Fullerton; Maricela A. Maffey, a nursing major at UCI; Gelacio Mondragon, a business administration major at Cal State Long Beach; Gonzalo R. Pena, an engineering major at UCI; Sylvia M. Perez, a human services major at Cal State Fullerton; Maria J. Ramirez, working on various subjects at UCI; Pearl Soria Aguilar, a criminal justice/human services major at Cal State Fullerton; and Manual Velazquez, working on various subjects at Cal State Fullerton.

These and many more Hispanic youth need and appreciate the moral and financial support that MAHA has been able to provide.

For further information on the fiesta or MAHA membership, call Martin Magdaleno, 779-5383 or Joyce Suzuki, 530-3382.

Membership is open to persons demonstrating a sincere desire to improve the educational opportunities for Mexican-American youth of Orange County. MAHA members strongly believe that education is the key to better living circumstances for Hispanics of today and tomorrow.

5th birthday of Stake

Approximately 500 members and friends from the Placentia Stake and the surrounding area of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints attended the Fifth Birthday celebration of the formation of the Stake. The gala event was sponsored by the Placentia Stake Activity Committee under the direction of Chairman Neil Kleven. The soiree was held Feb. 14, at 210 W. Livingston Ave. in Placentia. The Cultural Hall of the Stake Center was gaily decorated in red and white, lace and hearts to carry out the Valentine theme.

The surprise of the evening was a special tribute paid to President Finley C. Pearce, the spiritual leader of some 3,000 members. The Placentia Stake encompasses Yorba Linda, Placentia, a portion of Brea east of the Orange Freeway, and a small part of Fullerton and Anaheim lying east of the Riverside Freeway.

President Pearce reported, "We had expected such growth that would cause need for another building in Yorba Linda in 1980. That did not materialize, but we do anticipate constructing another building in Yorba Linda by 1984."

Pearce said that the church desires to provide quality participation in every community and members who are willing to do their part and more. The Stake president commented, "We encourage Latter Day Saints to be the best neighbors possible. In fact, we wish them to be outstanding examples of neighbors." In commenting on the role of the member, Pearce said that every individual has a responsibility to his community. "The leader of the church, President Kimball, has made a strong appeal to all Latter Day Saints to participate in community and civic affairs. That is one reason that the church recently altered the entire church meeting schedules in order that the members would have more time to spend with family and take part in community matters," stated Pearce.

Family members and friends came from all parts of the area to pay tribute to Pearce. Honored guests included his children and their families, William of Ontario, David of Concord, Mary Lynn Jones of Sandy, Utah, and Michelle Sexton of Florence, Ariz. Two remaining children were unable to attend for health reasons, so they sent written tributes to their father.

Other guests were Pearce's mother-in-law, Mrs. Erma Eldridge of Salt Lake City, his brother Max of Orinda, Calif., his sisters, Mrs. Teresa Rather of Las Vegas, and Mrs. Lydia Cox of Concord. Also in attendance were his sisters-in-law, Mrs. Renae Powell of Anaheim, Eva Eldridge of Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Erma Hogen of Bountiful, Utah.

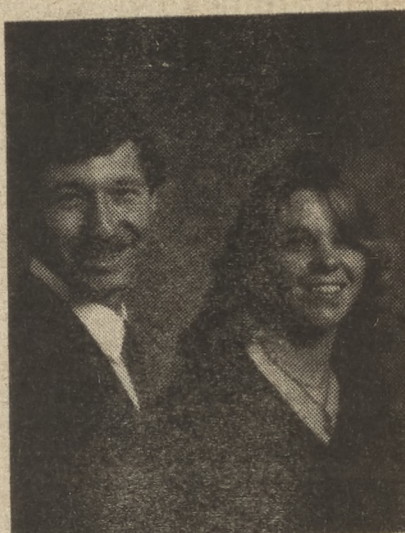

Chairmen of the event were Bob and Maejel Larking of Yorba Linda and the MC was Ron Griffiths.

Harris, Wilkie to wed

Linda L. Harris, daughter of Eugene and Evelyn Harris of Placentia, is planning a June 18, 1983 wedding to John D. Wilkie, son of John B and Judy Wilkie, formerly of Placentia.

The bride to be is a 1979 graduate of El Dorado High School and is an education major at Fullerton College. The groom, also a 1979 El Dorado grad, is attending college at Texas A & M as an electrical engineering major.

Kuether, Hamman Wed

Mrs. and Mrs. Donald Jeffrey Hamman are at home in Newport Beach following their Jan. 3 wedding in Sunland and a honeymoon in Mazatlan, Mexico. The bridegroom, formerly of Placentia, is the son of Donald R. Hamman and Ernestine J. Hamman, both of Fullerton. The bride, the former Eleanor Anna Kuether, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kuether of Sunland.

The Rev. Orval Hamman of Wright City, Mo., the bride's grandfather, officiated at the ceremony at the Sunland Lutheran High School Chapel. The bride wore a handmade gown of lace over satin. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Virginia Kuether, maid of honor, Laura Potter, Stephanie and Debbie Kuether, bridesmaids, all wore rose and pale blue floral print gowns and carried carnation bouquets.

Jim Carl Krummann of Yorba Linda was best man. David and Michael Hamman of Fullerton and Robert Kuether ushered. Kathy Kuether and Jennifer Press Seabloom of Placentia completed the wedding party. A reception at the school followed.

The new Mrs. Hamman, a graduate of Verdugo Hills High School, Tujunga, graduated with honors from UC Santa Barbara, where she majored in health studies and was a member of Mortar

Valencia survey

What's a good movie

By Elaine Schmidt

People enjoy different things in different films. In a recent survey conducted by the El Tigre staff, Valencia High School students were questioned about what they considered necessary elements for a good movie.

Seniors Garrett Morgan and Todd Jensen enjoy humorous pictures—especially those starring favorite comedians. Morgan mentioned, "It has to make you laugh."

Kelly Tenner, Michael Morimoto and Julie Whiteside look for films featuring spectacular special effects, while freshman Peter Hohenbrink feels that fantastic stunts can make or break a movie.

Sophomores Jerry Henry and Rob Hendrix both agree that realistic detail is a must for enjoyment, particularly in those flicks featuring Brooke Shields. Senior Chris Hayes commented, "I look for exciting scenes with a good plot to the story. I like movies that deal with reality."

In comparison, Lisa Ridgway, Sandy Rodriguez and Robyn Barzone noted that well-built male actors were a definite movie attraction. Or, as Ridgway volunteered, "Ryan O'Neil, Warren Beatty and Robert Redford!"

Murder mysteries and violent horror films were unquestionably popular with almost every student polled. Senior Lance Peltier stated that he watches television movie commercials for "things that suddenly jump out," while junior Roger Pepe remarked that he looks for "something that would be a good shocker." Pat Hassis displayed a similar attraction to action and for "Suspense! Excitement!"

Another well-liked movie element was rock music and taped concerts. Tad Wesoloski, Brian Wilson and Ruth O'Dwyer all expressed interest in what Wesoloski termed, "Radical chances, rock 'n roll, and pure entertainment."

Karen Klem, William Adams and Russ Egbert agreed that good reviews by the critics and friends are a vital point in favor of a motion picture. Correspondingly, sophomore Laura Hartt mentioned that her favorite features were usually Academy Award winners.

But, as someone wisely commented, no matter what sort of movie you like—how much you enjoy a film really depends on the person you see it with.

Chart of Life

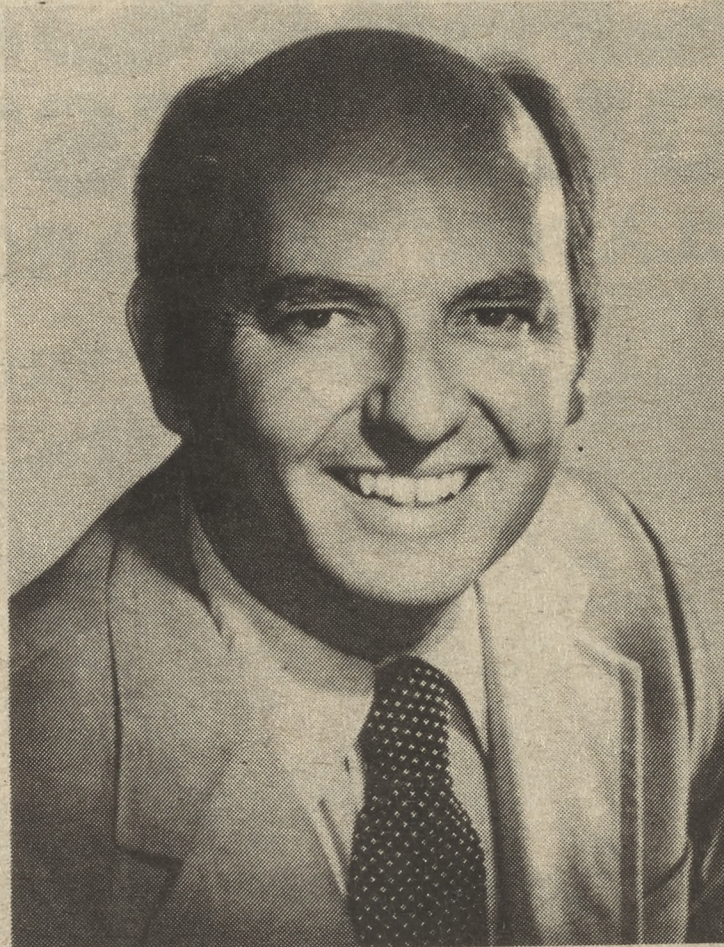

"The Bible has been the chart of life for millions. Its light can show us our place in God's tender plan," said Christian Science lecturer Robert W. Jeffrey, of Franklin, Mich., the speaker at a free public lecture sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Yorba Linda. The date is Thursday, Feb. 19, 8 p.m. in the Yorba Linda Library Community Room.

In his lecture entitled "Christ - The Light Shining in Darkness," Jeffrey will illustrate how the Biblical accounts of Christ Jesus' life and works point the way to useful, fulfilling and progressive lives. He will relate instances showing that both children and adults can find healing through letting God direct their thoughts and lives.

Jeffrey resigned his position in engineering management for a large manufacturing firm to enter the public healing practice of Christian Science. Recently he was elected to the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, a capacity which takes him to many cities to explain his church's well known and long held commitment to Christian healing.

Mrs. Barbara deCoster of Yorba Linda will introduce Jeffrey Thursday.

Everyone is invited to attend. Free child care will be available at the Christian Science Church at Lemon and Main in Yorba Linda, one block east of the library.

Local concerns held at Episcopal meeting

The Episcopal Church Women of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church will hold their regular monthly meeting Thursday, Feb. 26 in the Parish Hall, 1231 E. Chapman, Fullerton. The business meeting will follow a 10 a.m. communion service in the church. At 11:30 a.m., two speakers will discuss local concerns; Richard Ackerman, councilman and Fullerton mayor pro tem, and Fran Karns, counselor and coordinator of Re-Entry Opportunities for Women at the Fullerton YWCA, who will outline the YWCA program for women. Reservations for the soup luncheon to follow the program can be made by calling the church office at 870-4350 by Wednesday, Feb. 25. If you need babysitting, please inform the church secretary.

Marshmallow stuff

The first annual World Records Night will take place as young teens vie for new records at the Evangelical Free Church of Yorba Linda at 7 p.m. on Feb. 20. Parents will officiate while students attempt to set new marks in such events as the marshmallow stuff, the headstand, and the long distance frisbee throw. The contestants will strive for records in as many of the 12 events as possible.

The event is open to any seventh or eighth grade student from the community. Registration is $1 and may be submitted that evening. The church is located at 5320 Richfield Rd. in Yorba Linda.

There's peace in knowing more of God.

Won't you join us soon?

Buddy Ebsen's New Musical

A special feature included poetry written by Pearce and set to music under the brilliant direction of David Elliott. Following the program there was a sumptuous buffet served by the Stake Relief Society under the supervision of Mrs. Renae Chase of Placentia. The climax of the evening was a Valentine dance with music provided by Lizzy and the Loving Sound, under the baton of Jan Van Keeken.

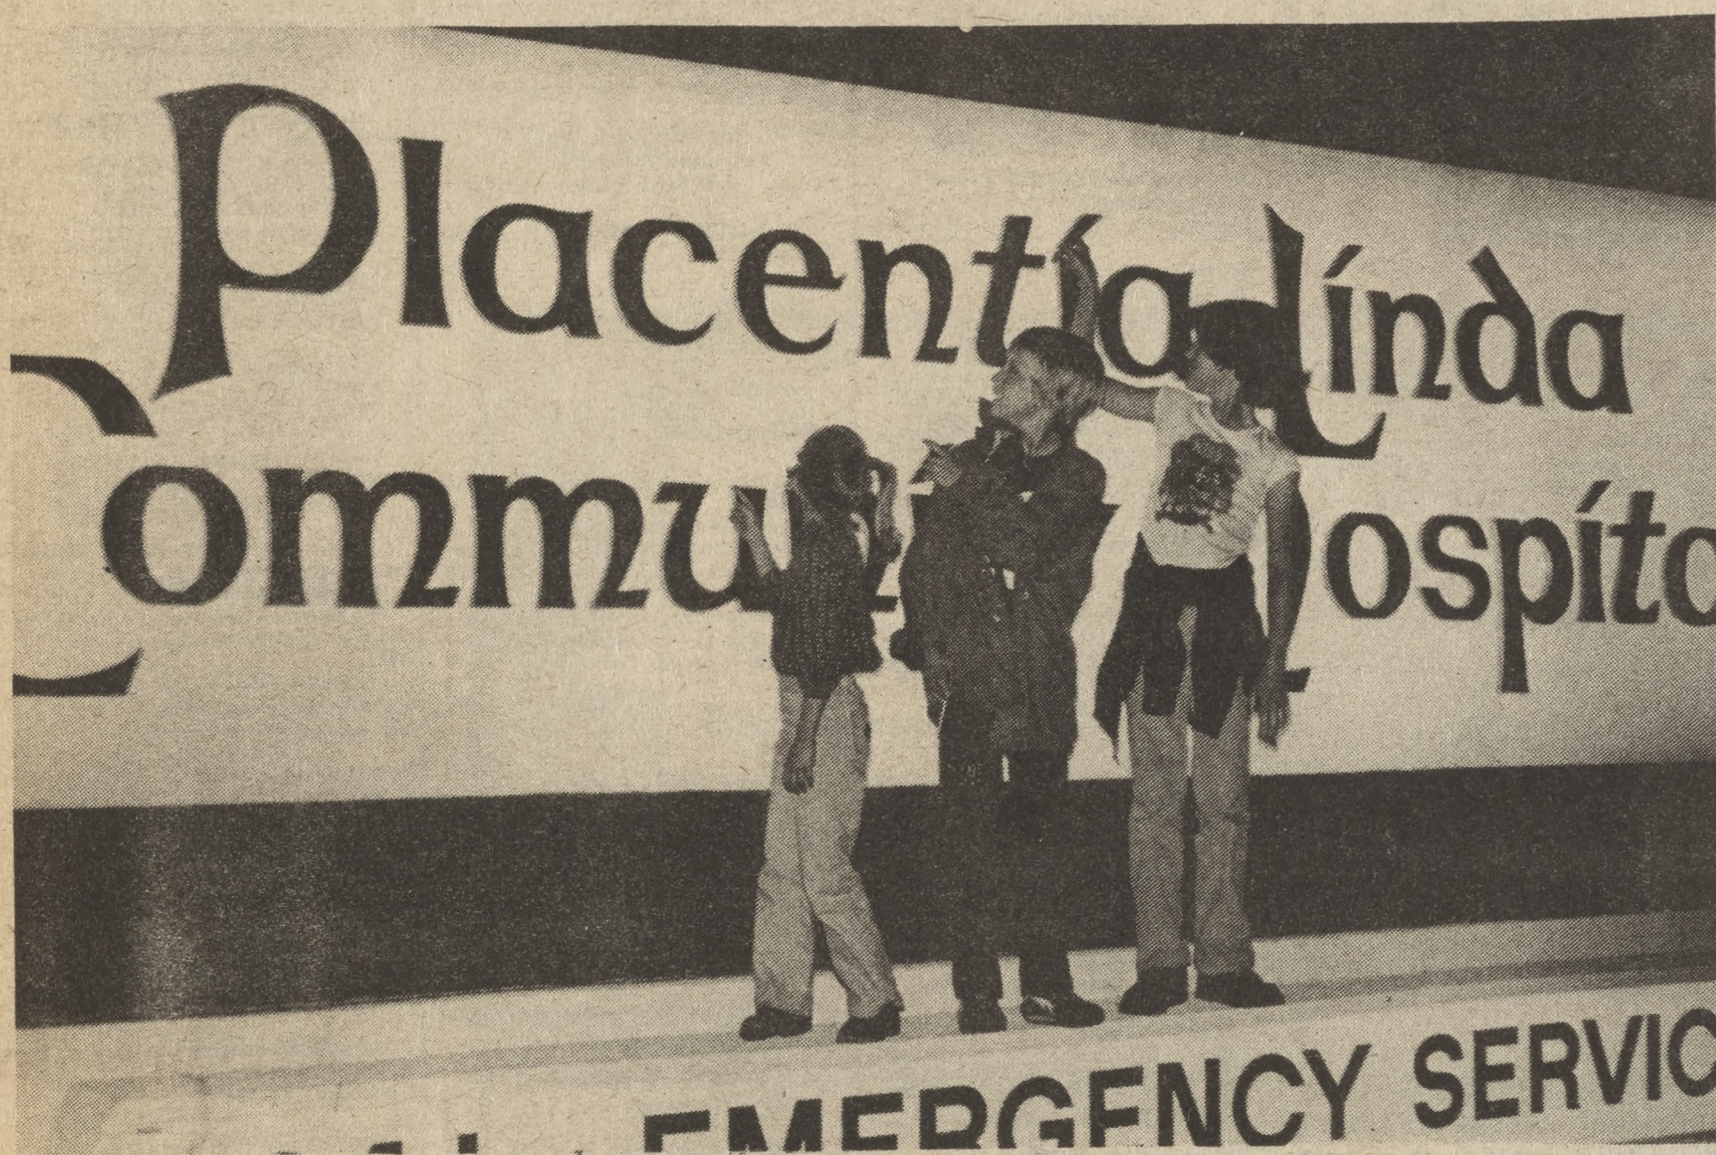

Buddy Ebsen has brought together some up-and-coming talent in his new musical "Turn to the Right" which has its world premiere March 8 at the Wilshire Theatre. Tickets are now on sale for the adaptation of the 1916 Broadway comedy, one of the biggest hits of the early part of the century.

Ebsen was teamed with his sister Vilma, and such Hollywood legends as Judy Garland, George Murphy, Eleanor Powell and Shirley Temple at the outset of their song and dance careers, as a producer he has now teamed some of the West Coast's best young talents to join veteran Jan Clayton who stars in the show. Michael Tucci and

Patrick DeSantis have both made their mark on Los Angeles theater and, although brought together here for the first time, they perform as a comedy team playing two ex-cons in the musical. Tucci received unanimous acclaim last season from Los Angeles drama critics as Master Jacques in the L.A. Shakespeare Festival production of "The Miser," and won a Drama-Logue award for "Finkle" in the Mark Taper Forum's "Kid Twist." DeSantis trained at the Pacific Observatory of the Performing Arts and at the Ashland, Oregon Shakespeare Festival and most recently starred in two world premieres - "Dyna-Fem" at the Pilot Theatre and "The Soul of Nat Turner" at Eaton House. The romantic leads are played by John Lamont and Kathryn Harlan. Lamont spent more than two years with The New Christy Minstrels and Harlan got her professional start at the Sacramento Music Circus. Tickets for "Turn to the Right" are available at the Wilshire Theatre, 8440 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, (213) 852-1900.

PLACENTIA-LINDA HOSPITAL SOLD - National Medical Enterprises, Inc. purchased Placentia-Linda Hospital Thursday for an undisclosed price. Tracey and Brad Zeppieri of Yorba Linda and Kellie Rector of Placentia check the hospital sign out in front. The name will remain the same.

There's a showdown with the hoedown

A square dance and bake off will be held at Placentia Presbyterian Church in the Fellowship Hall Saturday, Feb. 28, from 7 to 11 p.m. Admission is free to bake off contestants and is $3 for dancers, to cover the cost of the caller. Bake off categories are pies, cakes, cookies and bread. Entries must be in by 7 p.m. the day of the event, and winners will be announced at 8 p.m. and auctioned off. Other entries will be sold for a dime-a-dip.

NOTICE OF DEATH OF JIVKO SHUMENOFF AND OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE NO. A-107423

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors and contingent creditors of Jivko Shumenoff and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will and/or estate:

A petition has been filed by Boris T. Andreoff in the Superior Court of Orange County requesting that Boris T. Andreoff be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of Jivko Shumenoff, Placentia, California (under the Independent Administration of Estates Act). The petition is set for hearing in Dept. No. 3 at 700 Civic Center Drive West, Santa Ana, California 92701 on February 25, 1981 at 9:30 a.m.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should either appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court or present it to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Section 700 of the Probate Code of California. The time for filing claims will not expire prior to four months from the date of the hearing noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file a request with the court to receive special notice of the inventory of estate assets and of the petitions, accounts and reports described in Section 1200 of the California Probate Code.

S&S REALTORS AND INVESTMENTS

WHY NOT WORK AT S&S??

Ed Schneider was asked why he came to S&S. Schneider, a resident of Anaheim Hills and an outstanding salesman working for S&S Realtors in the Yorba Linda-Anaheim Hills area, had this to say, "The reasons I came to work at S&S are obvious. The commission program is outstanding. Besides personal publicity, every one of our listings is guaranteed advertising on a regular basis. The company swing loan program is without equal. The company is a full-service brokerage which also provides free licensing for people interested in getting their license as well as a one-to-one fast start training program for new licensees."

Schneider, a consistent 2 million dollar plus producer each year since he's been in Real Estate had these placards about the company.

If you are licensed (or looking to get your license) and want a fresh approach to selling real estate, take Ed's advice and call S&S for a confidential interview, or call Ed himself for a salesman's first-hand insight.

CORDI FISHER

Cordi transfers to the Yorba Linda office after 3 1/2 years of successful real estate sales with another real estate company in south Orange County. She and her family are new residents of Yorba Linda and have found the town exactly what they were looking for. "It's country atmosphere, the hills and panoramic views - just the whole city is delightful. It's going to be easy to sell," said Cordi, whose background includes various awards for outstanding sales as well as a steady membership in the Million Dollar Club.

Welcome Cordi - it's great to have you on the team!

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

A warm welcome to Cordi Fisher who this week joined the professional team of S&S Realtors and Investments.
